Do Not Run in the Frost

I can run fast. I will win and be the best. When I run, I kick up dust.

I must try not to step on a nest of bugs. One dusk with no sun I did run on my block. A cop in a vest said, "Stop! Do not run on this block. It has frost and the sky is black. You can slip. You can twist a leg." So I did not run until ten. I am still fit.

The Pigsty

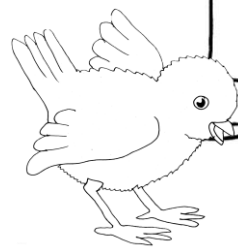

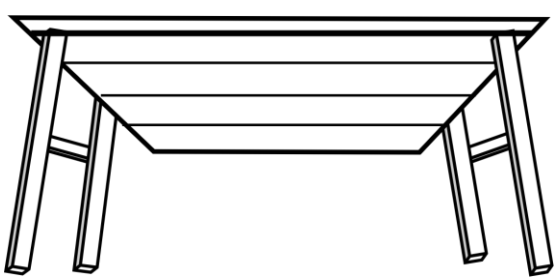

Two pigs are in the pigsty. One pig smells a red bud on a stem. The stem is stiff. The man has a tub for the pigs. He will stock the pig's bin with stuff that is trash for us but is not bad for them. One pig says, "Yum!"

The pigsty is by a hut for hens and chicks. The chicks stab at bugs and the hens pick up sticks.
