My Class Skit

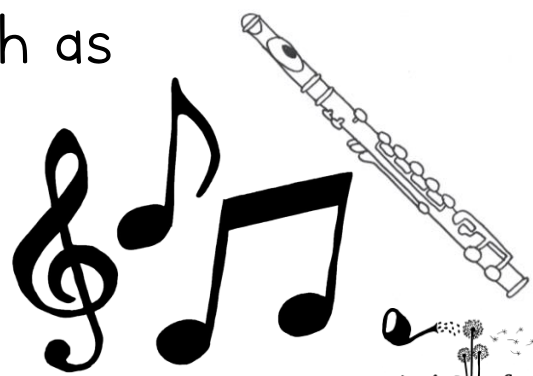

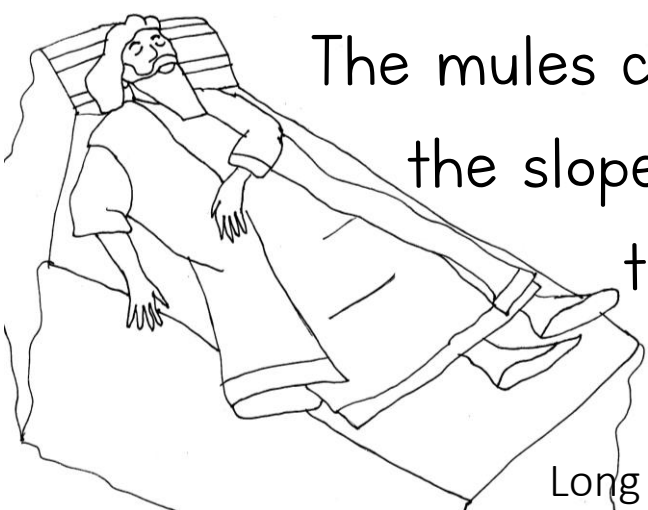

This June I will act in a skit with my class. It is a tale from a long time past. I will be a king who rules the land.

The king is a rude brute. He will not let the mules graze on the slopes. He says the grass is his and they cannot intrude. But then came a man with a plume in his hat and a flute in his hand. A flute is like a tube with holes on top. He makes a tune with the flute that puts the king to bed.

The mules can graze on the grass on the slope as much as they like..
