A Gift for Mom

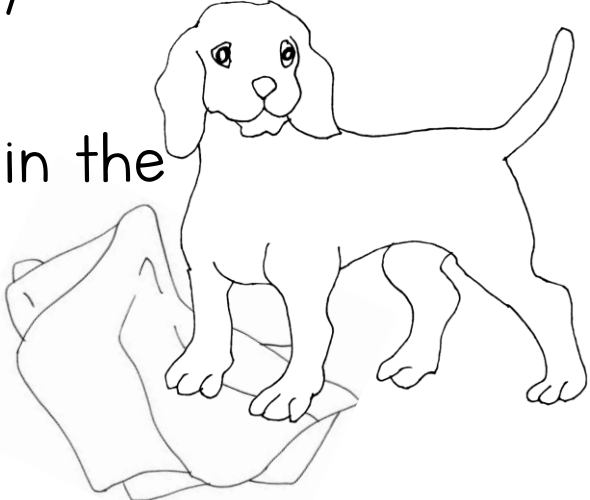

I must get a gift to give to my mom for her B-day. I will go to the store with my dad to shop. I did save my wages.

“Can I get Mom a fish?” I ask. “No,” says Dad. “Fish have gills. They cannot be on land.”

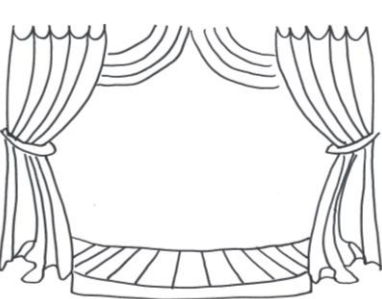

“Can I get that wagging pup in the cage?” I ask.

“No,” says Dad. “It will make a mess and Mom will have to wipe it up with rags. She will be in a rage.”

“Let’s chip in us two,” says Dad. “We can get Mom tickets to a nice skit on a stage. The price is big, but we can split the cost.”

Mom likes this gift. She gives us a huge hug.
