

When talking about a place, there has the word here inside of it:

there

When people are doing something, push the words they are together and turn the a into an apostrophe to make they're:

they → ' ↖ are

When using the possessive, remember that their things belong to them:

them