

Where's My Burger

Copy the pictures onto cardstock and cut out.

Ask students what are the things they like the most about school (recess, sports, friends...maybe fashion for the older ones) and write these onto the toppings. Ask your students if they see everything they would need for a burger. What is missing? (There's no burger or bun, just toppings.) explain that the point of going to school (the burger) is to learn. Recess, sports, and friends are all great extras that make school tastier, but they're not the reason why school exists. If you come to school and only focus on the toppings, you miss out on a great burger.
