We Stay at the Bay

One day we go to stay by the bay. We pay for a hut made of clay. There is a colt who munches hay from a tray. We play in the bay and the spray of the mist gets on my face. We lay the mats on the sand. The sun's rays shine on us. I say, "Let's hike up this way by the cliffs."

But when we get to the top, I get a scare. There is a snake in my way and I jump so that I do not step on it. I pray it does not bite me.

My mom says she has an aid box just in case. When we hike back, we do not go the same way and we stay way back from snakes!
