The Old Oak Tree

The old oak tree stands by the bay. In its shade, a goat munches on some oats. A man in a gray coat feeds a loaf made with lots of grains to some ducks. They float until they are soaked, then they sink. A boat bobs in the waves. By the old oak tree is an old road made of stones. A toad hops from stone to stone. It hops on the lap of the man with the toast.

“Eek!” he exclaims. “I must go get some soap. That toad made my hands filthy!”

He tosses his toast to the ducks who munch it up.
